Los Angeles, CA - The highly anticipated PixelMags platform is officially live on the iTunes Store and is taking the digital publishing world by storm. The first week alone generated an incredible 1 million page views. Over 53 million iPhone and iPod Touch users now have access to more than thirty titles, including MacUser, iCreate, and Advanced Photoshop, and more are going live every day.

PixelMags is fast becoming the preferred portal for the publishing world and currently has over 300 titles under contract, with a list of publications that continues to grow. Already we've seen a significant number of iPhone and iPod Touch users purchasing a twelve month subscription to their favorite magazines using PixelMags' innovative in app purchase feature. In addition to new subscriptions, users have access to an archive of six to twelve back issues that is available for purchase for all PixelMags' publications.

The PixelMags platform offers iPhone and iPod Touch users an exciting array of features, including, but not limited to, search, zoom, and bookmarking options, headline alerts, a virtual library, social network sharing capabilities, in app purchasing of new and archived issues, and the most realistic page turning experience available anywhere.

The founders of PixelMags have focused their decades of experience and knowledge into creating the most modern, user-friendly, cost-effective, and realistic digital publishing technology available. PixelMags platform is delivering everything that was promised and is exceeding all expectations. For more information on PixelMags, please visit our website.
