

ACTRocket 1.0 - Web Search Accelerator for iPhone and iPod Touch

Published on 02/05/10

Houdah Software today announces ACTRocket 1.0 for iPhone and iPod Touch. ACTRocket is a web search accelerator. It allows for quickly searching the web as well as individual web sites. Through the use of shortcuts, it makes selecting a search engine easy and fast. ACTRocket comes pre-configured with many popular search engines as well as a large selection of web sites. You may add your own favorites and assign shortcuts too.

Luxembourg, Europe - Houdah Software today is proud to announce the immediate availability of ACTRocket 1.0 for iPhone, iPod Touch and iPad. ACTRocket is the latest addition to Houdah Software's iPhone application portfolio. Our most popular product is the currency converter ACTCurrency. Last week, we announced the ACTGratuity 2.0 upgrade.

ACTRocket allows for quick searching of web sites and search engines. It not only speeds up the process. It saves on your data plan: you no longer need to load web pages just to get to the search form. Running a web search couldn't be any faster. Just type "g houdah" to search Google for the word houdah. Type "y houdah" for the same search using Yahoo!

ACTRocket comes pre-configured with many popular search engines (Google, Yahoo, Bing) as well as a large selection of web sites (Wikipedia, IMDB, ...). You may, of course, add your own favorites and assign shortcuts of your choosing. For times where you don't remember shortcuts, you may select a search engine from a list which is filtered as you type.

ACTRocket also remembers your recent searches. Running it again is a matter of a single tap. This allows you to easily run the same search across several sites. Type "imdb Serious Man" to search IMDB. Hit the back button. Select "Rotten Tomatoes". Then select "Serious Man" from the recent searches list. Now you are reading movie reviews.
