

HiFutureMe 1.1 defies the Laws of Physics to Deliver You Messages

Published on 08/17/10

Portland based dBelement, LLC today announces HiFutureMe 1.1, their free, quick, easy and useful app for iPhone and iPod touch. HiFutureMe is an amazingly simple app that allows you to send messages to your future self. HiFutureMe launches instantly, and gets right to the point. Write your message, select a time and hit "Send". The only bells and whistles are ones you'll hear when you are awarded the "greatest punctuality" and "remembers things best in the world" award.

Portland, Oregon - dBelement, LLC today is excited to announce HiFutureMe 1.1 for the iPhone and iPod touch. HiFutureMe is an amazingly simple app that allows you to send messages to your future self. The app is quick, easy, and incredibly useful.

You forgot, again ... how could you forget? Dammit, you just can't create a calendar event for laundry. Timers are great if you have one thing to do. But that's not life, you have 20 things to keep in mind at all times. This problem has been around for ages and no one has thought to solve it properly. There are so many calendar and to-do note apps with alerts, but they are all clunky and ineffective for the one thing you really need, quick instant reminders.

HiFutureMe launches instantly, and gets right to the point. Write your message, select a time and hit "Send". That's all, there is no fluff. The only bells and whistles are ones you'll hear when you are awarded the "greatest punctuality" and "remembers things best in the world" award (look it up).

Feel the confidence, of remembering everything. Let people talk about how you are never late to anything anymore. HiFutureMe will change your life, you'll find yourself sending alerts for pretty much everything. Life is easy when you have a personal assistant, especially when that assistant is as awesome as your past self.
