Published on 10/06/10

San Francisco Bay Area based software company Redbot Software Inc, today announces Time Lapse Photo Journal 1.0.1 for iPhone and iPod touch. Time Lapse Photo Journal allows users to create Photo Journals of their lives, and then play back the photos they take over the weeks, months or years, as Time Lapse video slideshows. Videos can be uploaded to share on Facebook and YouTube. The app includes advanced iOS 4.0 features, such as auto-save and restore, as well as Push Notification reminders.

Newark, California - Redbot Software Inc. announced today the release of its iPhone app, Time Lapse Photo Journal 1.0.1, on the iTunes App Store. The Time Lapse Photo Journal App allows iPhone and iPod touch users to create Photo Journals of their lives, by adding photos of themselves or loved ones, and then playing back the photos they take over the weeks, months or years, as Time Lapse video slideshows. Videos can be uploaded to Facebook and YouTube to share with friends.

Create Photo Journals for each person or subject. (ie self portrait, child, spouse, pet, diet program, home remodel.) Add photos to each over regular intervals, days, weeks, or months. As each photo is added, crop and use the guides to align to a grid or to the last photo. App can be used to track changes over time. Children growing up. Faces as they change over the years. Growth of pets and plants. Even home remodels as work is being performed.

App uses advance iOS 4.0 features, such as auto-save and restore, as well as local Push Notification reminders. Push notification reminders can be set for each Journal at regular intervals, so user never forgets to take a new shot. Playback the photos as slideshow movies. Adjust the playback speed for each Journal. Upload and share the videos on Facebook and Youtube, or email directly to a friend.

New Features:

- * Add unlimited number of Photo Journals
- * Add unlimited number of photos to a journal (Subject to device capacity)
- * High resolution images and icon for iPhone 4 retina display
- * New Badge numbers for push notifications
- * Bug fixes and performance improvements
- * Auto save and restore fixed
