Published on 04/23/08

Allusions is proud to announce the immediate availability of SunFlower 0.9, a visual webpage monitoring tool. SunFlower is a visual webpage monitoring tool designed for websites that change occasionally but provide no monitoring mechanism like RSS. With SunFlower, a user is not only notified when a website has changed but the user can actually see the difference. Version 0.9 provides a revamped snapshot view which is more responsive when dealing with large snapshots and a new zooming feature.

Halifax, Nova Scotia - Allusions is proud to announce the immediate availability of SunFlower 0.9, a visual webpage monitoring tool. SunFlower 0.9 (Member Edition) provides a revamped snapshot view which is more responsive when dealing with large snapshots and a new zooming feature. Updating to version 0.9 is recommended for all SunFlower members.

Some Key Changes in Version 0.9:

- * New Feature: Zooming from 25% to 200% in the snapshot view
- * Updated: Heavy processing pushed to a background thread
- * Fixed: The snapshot view flicker issue has been resolved
- * Fixed: A race condition that could potentially cause a crash during initialization
- * Fixed: About box links now open in an external browser
- * Fixed: The anchor menu always displays completely on screen
