Cottage Grove, MN - Steve Wilmes Consulting, Inc. releases "Functions and Operators" Developer's Card for FileMaker Pro. The card is a detailed reference that has every FileMaker function and error code on one double sided-8 1/2 x 11 inch (A4)-U/V coated card.

The Functions and Operators Developer's Card for FileMaker Pro makes it easier for FileMaker developers by providing the "whole picture of all the functions at a glance" with as much detail as possible. Often developers work with multiple versions of FileMaker - each function on the card is color-coded to match the FileMaker version to which it belongs as well as its output (number, text, date, etc.). The card details every function and error code from FileMaker 6 through 9.

The card goes in-depth describing functions and offers tips. The card highlights functions that are case-sensitive, require the return character to separate values, use []s to separate multiple values, and operate differently when hosted. The card also goes in-depth on the GetLayoutObjectAttribute function, custom functions and recursion, and the Get(Window) functions.

Pricing and Availability:

The Functions & Operators Developer's Card is available immediately at CardsFM for $8.95 (USD) with free shipping in the United States and Canada (Shipping costs $3.00 elsewhere).
