Toronto, Ontario - RAGE Software announced today the immediate availability of RAGE WebCrusher 1.1, a major update to the website optimizer for Mac OS X. RAGE WebCrusher is a utility for website owner's to reduce their website's load time, providing a better experience for their visitors and customers. RAGE WebCrusher scans entire websites, including webpage files and image files, to intelligently remove all unneeded code and making websites load as fast as possible in a web browser.

On average, visitors will wait up to 8 seconds for a website to fully load before closing their browser window or pressing the back button. Website owners need to ensure that their website loads as quickly as possible for all of their potential customers. Now users can simply drop their website onto RAGE WebCrusher and let the software quickly remove all unneeded code from their webpages.

RAGE WebCrusher was built with iWeb based websites in mind, which have generally been known for their large file sizes and slow loading image files. iWeb users can optimize their entire websites for speed at the click of a button.

With RAGE WebCrusher 1.1 users can now publish their optimized websites directly to their iDisk. It also fixes issues with optimizing CSS and PHP files. RAGE WebCrusher runs on Mac OS X 10.4 or later.
