CS Odessa has announced the immediate availability of a training pack designed for ConceptDraw Office which consists of a number of short instructional videos, which demonstrate user scenarios and some important functionality in ConceptDraw Office. Also included in the training pack are Tips and Tricks documentation, Samples Gallery and many other start-up tools to help users discover the capability behind ConceptDraw Office.

Odessa, Ukraine - CS Odessa, a leading developer of software productivity solutions, including ConceptDraw Office, has announced the immediate availability of a training pack designed for ConceptDraw Office. The ConceptDraw Office Training Pack consists of a number of short instructional videos, which demonstrate user scenarios and some important functionality in ConceptDraw Office. Also included in the training pack are Tips and Tricks documentation, Samples Gallery and many other start-up tools to help users discover the capability behind ConceptDraw Office.

"Since the release of ConceptDraw Office we have had a large number of customers ask us for training materials so they could get up to speed faster. Many times adoption of a more effective way to manage a business process is slowed because of employee product training issues, the ConceptDraw Office Training Pack helps minimize any training issues associated with the first steps involved in using a new tool," comments Oleg Bocharnikov, Head of Product Management Department for CS Odessa.

Julia Fedorenko, Head of Marketing, further states, "We looked at what was being asked by our users, and put together a self-paced training pack that guides one from some very basic operations in ConceptDraw Office to more complex and powerful operations. The training pack has both instructional and reference materials that are designed to quickly move someone from start-up mode to a solid foundation of knowledge".

CS Odessa provides ConceptDraw Office Training Pack as a no charge service to all customers.
