Big Stone Phone Company, makers of Twittelator Pro, iGraffiti, TalkingPics and Gesture, today released a free party strobe app for the iPhone and iPod Touch named Pulsar. Besides being a ubiquitous flashlight, Pulsar creates a mesmerizing light show, with many options to create different moods.

Albuquerque NM - Big Stone Phone today has shipped a brand new application for the iPhone and iPod Touch named "Pulsar". Pulsar V 1.0 is a free pulsing light show application with many options and settings to control the light generated. Use it to set the mood with the slow pulse mode or increase the speed to ultra fast to induce a hypnotic state!

Pulsar Features Include:

Strobe mode:

- * * rainbow colors
- * * adjustable speed
- * * random colors option
- * * slow motion setting
- * * four different shape options
 - * * * diamond
 - * * * star
 - * * * ellipse
 - * * * lightning
- * * change colors by rotating

Flashlight mode great for:

- * * finding the keyhole
- * * reading a book at night

* Settings remembered between launches

Big Stone Phone cofounder and CEO of Stone Design Andrew Stone remarked, "I was at a concert and realized how much fun it would be if hundreds of audience members had a mesmerizing app for the iPhone to create an interesting pastiche of ambient light. Use it for meditation and calming the mind or turn it up fast and experience altered states!"

Other titles by Big Stone Phone include: Gesture, Twittelator Pro, iGraffiti and TalkingPics. Visit their website to learn more about our applications for Macintosh and the iPhone.
