Wow You Design announces the availability of Nation Elements: Americas, an addition to its popular Keynote Theme Park line of products designed exclusively for Apple Keynote. Nation Elements: Americas is a collection of beautifully crafted country border shapes, flags, aqua flag orbs, reflective overlays, shape and table fills, and standardized location maps for 39 individual countries and territories found in North and South America. What's more, each of the 39 countries / territories in the Americas set includes a national symbol. "Usually when people create a presentation that needs national or country graphical elements, they scour the Internet to find something that's at least useable," said John Driedger of Wow You Design. "The results end up being from all over the place, and frankly it looks it. With Nation Elements that's no longer the case. Now everything has a beautiful, coordinated, professional appearance that'll make presentations look phenomenal."

Initially available in the Americas set only, Wow You Design will soon release additional Nation Elements sets, five in all, covering countries and territories from around the world. Future sets include Nation Elements: Europe, Nation Elements: Asia, Nation Elements: Pacific Rim, and Nation Elements: Africa. Each set will be available for an introductory price of only $19.95 (US), with Nation Elements: Americas available immediately. Upon the expiration of the introductory price, each Nation Elements set will sell for $39.95 (US). For complete product details and to purchase Nation Elements: Americas, visit:
