

bambooapps updates Keep Your Word and reduces the price of FND

Published on 11/05/08

bambooapps proudly announces the update of Keep Your Word for Mac OS X Leopard. Version

1.2 adds data import and export and a new tag browser. Keep Your Word lets you build your own dictionary, classifying and grouping the terms exactly how you want to, while helping you to learn the longest list of words thanks to its different exercise modes. To celebrate the update, and the launch of FNDMobile, bambooapps also reduces the price of FND, the film development database and clock.

Ma On Shan, Hong Kong - bambooapps proudly announces the release of Keep Your Word 1.2 for Mac OS X Leopard. Keep Your Word adds data import and export and a new tag browser. Are you studying a new language? Your class notebook is an endless list of words that you have to learn? You remember that your teacher told you how to say a lot of useful things but, can you find them in your notebook?

Keep Your Word lets you build your own dictionary, classifying and grouping the terms exactly how you want to, while helping you to learn the longest list of words thanks to its different exercise modes. Keep Your Word supports all the character sets that your Mac supports, so you can write any word in the world.

Keep Your Word is designed to:

- * Let you build your own dictionary
- * Organize and classify your words
- * Find words quickly
- * Do exercises

FND celebrates the release of its iPhone cousin, FNDMobile, reducing its price to 9.95 USD.

Pricing and availability:

Keep Your Word 1.2 costs $24.95 (USD) and is available now. The unregistered version of Keep Your Word is fully functional, although limited to 30 days. Keep Your Word requires Mac OS X 10.5 Leopard, and runs on any Mac supported by Leopard.

FND costs 9.95 (USD) and is also Leopard only. FNDMobile is available at the App Store.
