Olive Hill, KY - Gabob LLC, an independent game developer, has released the game trailer for Now Boarding, an action-tycoon game. The trailer offers a brief introduction to the gameplay in Now Boarding. Featuring the frenetic pace of time-management and the intriguing choices of building and running a successful airport.

In Now Boarding, passengers must get to various destinations before they freak out. The player renovates the terminal, adding restaurants and shops to keep passengers pacified. Purchasing larger and exotic aircraft increases the capacity of passengers that can be delivered. Expanding to new cities adds customers, giving the player more income, but also magnifies complexity. Hiring employees to take over some tasks is critical in order to handle the increasing load. Through the player's career they can expand the airline across the US and Europe.

The game showcases an innovative 'pickup-and-deliver' gameplay, which rewards clever planning by not getting backed up! There are diverse set of modes and achievements to unlock. The game sports a distinct retro look and a groovy soundtrack.
