Strap on your bungee cord and get ready to stretch, sling, and smash your way to victory! Indie game studio Heyalda Corporation in collaboration with David Welch has launched their fun iOS game Smash Turtle. As Smash Turtle, you must defend your baby turtle eggs until they hatch by using a bungee sling and your hard turtle shell to bash into enemies before they fly off with your precious eggs. This simple and addictive game is now available on iOS devices for a low price!

Chicago, Illinois - Strap on your bungee cord and get ready to stretch, sling, and smash your way to victory! Indie game studio Heyalda Corporation in collaboration with David Welch has launched their fun iOS game Smash Turtle.

Smash Turtle thought he could enjoy a quiet day on his island home, relaxing and playing tetherball. But he was wrong. Smash Turtle's home is being invaded by birds, bears, flying hippos, aliens, ghosts and many other fiendish foes who are after his eggs. What can one turtle do against these relentless forces?

Fortunately, this half-shelled hero has a secret weapon. In "Smash Turtle" this clever turtle replaces the tetherball on the stretchy bungee cord and becomes a swinging, slinging, enemy-smashing weapon of destruction!

In this fast and frenetic physics-based game, players must help Smash Turtle defend his eggs by touching, pulling, and releasing Smash Turtle so he goes flying into enemies and smashes them with his hard shell. Players must focus on accurate aiming and quick reflexes to clobber these enemies before they grab the egg and fly off with it.

If Smash Turtle can defeat each wave of enemies and keep the egg safe throughout the night, then the player is rewarded by watching the egg hatch into a new and unique baby turtle that they can share on Facebook and Twitter.

As the player progresses through the levels and saves more baby turtles, they see Smash Turtle's wacky family grow and fill his turtle nest.

But that's not all, along the way players can unlock special gifts to decorate their turtle nest by smashing open falling presents. They can also falling collect coins to buy awesome power-ups, like the powerful lightning shell and the devastating rocket shell.
