

Pixel Research Labs to contribute Valentine's Day profits to Donate Life

Published on 02/14/12

Pixel Research Labs will contribute all profits from Valentine's Day app sales to Donate Life. Valentine's Day is National Donor Day, and we want to help spread the word on the importance of being an organ donor. Currently there are over 100,000 people in the United States waiting for an organ donation, approximately 1,800 of those are pediatric patients. Each day an average of 18 people will die from the lack of an available organ. Please consider donating on Valentine's Day.

Minneapolis, Minnesota - Pixel Research Labs will contribute all profits from Valentine's Day app sales to Donate Life America. Valentine's Day is National Donor Day, and we want to help spread the word on the importance of being an organ or tissue donor.

Donate Life America is an organization committed to helping promote organ donation. Currently there are over 100,000 people in the United States waiting for an organ donation, approximately 1,800 of those are pediatric patients. Each day an average of 18 people will die from the lack of an available organ. Please consider donating on Valentine's Day, Tuesday, February 14th 2012 by buying any of our apps or by making a direct donation to Donate Life America at their website.

Please also consider registering to be an organ or tissue donor. Your gift could help save up to eight lives. More information about donation and registration is available at link listed below.
