

Happy Chicken Co - Toughest Maze Puzzle Game Ever?

Published on 02/21/12

UK based game developers, The Steampunk Studio today announces Happy Chicken Co 2.0 for iOS, along with a competition. Can you be the first player in the world to Conquer The Maze? Happy Chicken Co raises the bar in respect of challenging puzzle games and is totally unique in its concept and originality. Players will become quickly addicted in their quest to rescue the chickens and prevent them from becoming tonight's Chow Mein.

Falmouth, United Kingdom - Game developers, The Steampunk Studio have released their new multi-platform game, Happy Chicken Co, along with a competition. Can you be the first player in the world to Conquer The Maze? Happy Chicken Co raises the bar in respect of challenging puzzle games and is totally unique in its concept and originality and players will become quickly addicted in their quest to rescue the chickens and prevent them from becoming tonight's Chow Mein!

The chickens who live under the Happy Chicken Co have discovered their fate and realised their only hope lies in the wings of Hilda, 'The Bravest Chicken'. There is only one way out. Freedom lies on the other side of the giant mind-boggling underground maze that stands in their way.

Steve Parkes from The Steampunk Studio said "Happy Chicken Co is such a unique, challenging game that we are very excited to hear from the first person to conquer it and we will award them with a special prize to commemorate their achievement." Details of the competition can be found on The Steampunk Studio website.

Players must navigate Hilda around the enormous maze avoiding the dangerous obstacles to find the 10 keys which are scattered throughout it then make their way to the exit. Sounds simple, but beware, not all is as it seems. There are some nasty twists and turns along the way and not all the keys are in plain view.
