May 20, 2007 - CS Odessa announces the release of ConceptDraw Project 3.3, an update to their popular project management software. Focus of the new version is preparation of proper project documentation and further enhancing of software usability towards Mac OS X standards.

ConceptDraw Project is project management software designed for successful planning and keeping track any number of projects running simultaneously, with a different focus and common resources that are need to be shared.

The ability of setting various Headers and Footers is essential to keep the project documentation accordingly to specific organization rules and integrate it into usual document flow. New redesigned project reports and capability to set fonts to the entire view are serving the same purpose.

Minor usability improvements include handy tooltips on the Tasks, modified popup menus, quick adding of resources via Assign Resources dialog at double click with 100% assignment, and others.
