Tap Alarm Clock is a smooth, eloquently designed alarm clock solution that abandons convoluted complexities in favor of providing users with intuitive gesture controls that let them set alarms in mere seconds. Tap Alarm Clock 2.0 takes it to the next level. It adds several new killers features but manages to retain its signature simplicity and style.

New York, New York - AppAnnex, an emerging mobile applications developer, has today announced the release of Tap Alarm Clock 2.0 for the iPhone, iPad, and iPod touch. Tap Alarm Clock is a smooth, eloquently designed alarm clock solution that abandons convoluted complexities in favor of providing users with intuitive gesture controls that let them set alarms in mere seconds. As slickly designed as it is simple to use, Tap Alarm Clock is currently available for download on the Apple App Store for 0.99 $ in the Productivity category.

An elegant appearance isn't simply an added bonus of Tap Alarm Clock, it's modus operandi. The app features a sleek design through and through that perfectly compliments the modern iOS platform that it runs on. Simply put, it's a must have for any style conscious app enthusiast.

First released in February 2012 Tap Alarm Clock has instantly become a hit among iOS fans who appreciate style and simplicity.

Tap Alarm Clock 2.0 takes it to the next level. It adds several new killers features but manages to retain its signature simplicity and style. Now you can enjoy 10 built in diverse alarm sounds that are guaranteed to wake your up. On top of that one can set a song from iPod library as an alarm sound.

Tap Alarm Clock comes complete with customizable snooze button options, the choice of either a twelve or twenty four hour clock format, and more as well. The app's display seamlessly shifts between vertical and landscape display modes, and features customizable brightness settings to appease users unique tastes and preferences to boot. Furthermore, the app's home screen icon shows users the status of their alarms, ensuring that they never forget to turn them on or off. If you want to get your hands on a mobile alarm that's as sleek and practical as your iPhone, look no further than Tap Alarm Clock.
