Published on 05/09/12

Red Trolley Software Pty Ltd has released HappyFingers 2.0.6 for iPhone, iPod touch and iPad users. The app is like a PC Suite for iOS devices. HappyFingers is the easiest way for users to search, select, and call or text their iPhone contacts right from their WiFi enabled Windows PC. It also provides a copy/paste function giving users the easiest way to transfer text and photos between their PC and their mobile device.

New York, New York - Announcing that Red Trolley Software Pty Ltd, the developer of HappyFingers, has released the latest update for iPhone, iPod touch and iPad users. HappyFingers makes it easier than ever before to look up, select, and dial or text message their contacts than it is using their small iPhone keypad.

This app consists of two components. After downloading HappyFingers from the App store, users just download and install the HappyFingers PC client from www.hfapp.net Next they pair their iOS device with their Windows based PC or laptop and say goodbye to that little keypad and embarrassing auto-correct blunders.

With both components installed, users are now free to use their PC keyboard to look up their iOS contacts, then dial their iPhone or type and send texts. HappyFingers also has a brilliant copy/paste function that provides users a simple and effective way to quickly transfer text, notes or photos between their iPhone and their computer without iTunes.

HappyFingers also features a Pro upgrade via in-app purchase. Users seeking even more functionality can use the Pro version to sync and look up all of their iPhone contacts, and also unlock the ability to transfer photos & images and send group texts.
