Kaunas, Lithuania - iWeb Themes Park is thrilled to present new iWeb Themes to their fans and all iWeb users once again. The updated collection on the company's website now contains 170 iWeb Themes in total. 5 new iWeb Templates - "Dance", "Desert", "Splash", "Robotics" and "Technical" - have been added to the collection. iWeb is Apple's web creation software and its templates are a great start for building personal websites.

Templates by iWeb Themes Park are well known for their originality, high quality and easy adaptation. With exceptional features and attention to details, all the bits of design and compatibility are well thought out. Templates are available individually or offered as a set in the "iWeb Themes Box" package, which is a choice of many iWeb users worldwide.

New Themes are full of exciting elements and exceptional details. "Dance" theme is perfect for the individual websites of outgoing personalities and small businesses like dancing classes. The eye-catching design of "Desert" template is suitable for action websites, including personal adventures, wildlife photography, life in exotic countries and other themes.

The remaining new templates are heading for a completely different direction. "Robotics" and "Technical" offer some futuristic elements and perfect for science fiction, technology or engineering fans. "Splash" template is very abstract and suits well for presenting your art or design work. Its memorable color distinguishes it from alternative websites.

iWeb Themes from iWeb Themes Park are easy to use and modify. Most of the pictures are placed in the placeholders and can be replaced with your own photos by an easy drag-and-drop move. The design is made of separate elements and every detail can be deleted, replaced, resized or colored otherwise. There are many widgets to choose from and all of them help to make sure your websites look unique and amazing. To use iWeb Themes from iWeb Themes Park requires just a Mac with iWeb from iLife '09 or later.

Pricing and Availability:
