Feraco Media announces MS Life Science Buddy 1.0 for iOS, a new addition to their apps for education, created by Science Teacher, Frederick Feraco Jr. The app is the ninth title in the series that covers a vast amount of curriculum and provides study help to junior high students, high schoolers, home-schoolers, and college students. Consisting of lessons, videos, interactive quizzes, daily news feeds and flash cards, this series features science, mathematics, history and health education topics.

Commack, New York - New York City science teacher and iOS developer, Frederick Feraco Jr., has 9 titles in the app store to help students prep for their regents and final exams.

They are broken into topics: chemistry, biology, physics, earth science, environmental science, global history, US history, integrated algebra, geometry geography, anatomy and physiology, astronomy, middle school life science, physical science and health education.

Some of the regents apps consist of question banks with NYS regents questions from past exams. There are also NYS regents exams with answer keys on each exam, as well. The daily news feeds also vary among each app. The news feeds are specific to each subject. Also videos specific to each topic. All of the apps are being updated daily to ensure the best possible product.

We asked high school honor students, in a study group, to take a look and let us know what they thought. They were very enthusiastic and wanted to share the apps with their past and previous instructors. We are in the process of turning our local high school students on to these great apps! Hopefully, this post will help get the word out that these apps cover a vast amount of curriculum and could help any advanced junior high students, high schoolers, home-schoolers, or even college students.

Frederick developed these apps to help all students with studying, and to make studying as convenient as possible. He has taught biology, physics, chemistry, environmental science, anatomy and physiology, robotics, engineering and biotechnology. He has his masters in secondary education and continues to further his education at Columbia University for the four walls of his classroom.

He has just released MS Life Science Buddy. MS Life Science Buddy is the ultimate tool for learning Biology. MS Life Science Buddy is not only an app for learning Biology and living environment but also a app for teachers. The features of this app makes studying extremely convenient.
