Nevosoft, a top Russian casual game developer, introduces Magic Academy 1.0 for Mac OS X. This engaging interactive story features an entertaining mix of puzzles, 21 levels and exciting mini-games. The game follows a young woman who enrolls in the Magic Academy to investigate her sister's disappearance. Magic artifacts, wizardry and a well-integrated plot, are woven together to produce engaging challenges, including finding hidden objects, jigsaw puzzles and rotation puzzles.

St. Petersburg, Russian Federation - Nevosoft is proud to introduce Magic Academy 1.0 for Mac OS X. This is a great story with an entertaining mix of puzzles. Magic artifacts and wizardry are woven together to produce an enjoyable mix of engaging challenges and a well-integrated plot.

Annie and her sister Irene were still quite young and had much to learn about magic. But suddenly Irene's life was turned upside down when her sister went missing. She knew that Annie had been lost. She even could hardly believe that something like this was possible at the Magic Academy! She decided to enroll at the Magic Academy and promised herself to find her sister no matter what.

The goals of the different levels in Magic Academy mostly include finding hidden things, jigsaw puzzles, rotation puzzles where pieces remain in their original position, but are rotated into correct alignment, and flipping tiles over and matching pairs to remove them from the board. The fan of this genre can appreciate all tasks of the game.
