Published on 03/17/09

The Dream Apps has announced Involer 1.2 an update to their simple invoicing application for Mac OS X. Involer allows users to create, print, export and track the status of their invoices within a single, easy to use interface. With Involer, you can be up and running with your company in just a few seconds, and sending invoices in minutes. Version 1.2 includes many bug fixes and new features and is a recommended free update for all users.

Corby, United Kingdom - The Dream Apps today released an update to their popular Invoice creation and management application for Mac OS X. Involer allows users to create, print, export and track the status of their invoices within a single, easy to use interface. The latest version also includes many bug fixes and new features and is a recommended free update for all users. The latest update, version 1.2 contains many new features that have been requested in previous versions.

Feature Highlights:

- * Added support for company logos.
- * You can now add a full client address to Involer.
- * Unique invoice numbers are now automatically created.
- * More invoice items can now be added to a single invoice.
- * New preferences, and an enhanced product registration experience.
- * Involer now displays a count of unpaid invoices in the 'Clients' sidebar.
- * The application toolbar has been optimized.
- * Before and after-tax totals are now correctly rounded.
- * Added more instructions and manuals.

Pricing and Availability:

The update is available for download from either the built in updater in the application, or from our website and is free for all existing users. The Involer application is still in introductory pricing at $19.99 (USD) and will only remain at that price for a few more weeks. The application can be purchased from our online store.
