

New Website iPhoneAppQuotes Launches

Published on 03/23/09

Optimum Lead Generation, LLC has announced the launch of a new website, iPhoneAppQuotes, enabling businesses and consumers the ability to connect with up to three iPhone development companies and receive a free price quote. The Network is open to any iPhone developer, iPhone development company and iPhone freelancers. The goal of the iPhoneAppQuotes Network is to become the exclusive source for iPhone Application developers.

Royal Palm Beach, Florida - Optimum Lead Generation, LLC has announced the launch of a new website, iPhoneAppQuotes, enabling businesses and consumers the ability to connect with up to three iPhone development companies and receive a free price quote.

With over 500,000 applications downloaded from the App Store in less than a year and over 25,000 apps in the store already, iPhone development companies are building and creating ground breaking mobile apps every day. There are now more iPhone OS based apps than Windows Mobile apps, despite the 9 year head start that Microsoft had.

The app store represents an enormous opportunity to reach consumers, which is evident in the expansive growth. This growth can only be sustained by qualified, experienced and reputable iPhone Application Developers.

The iPhoneAppQuotes Network is open to any iPhone developer, iPhone development company and iPhone freelancers, however not all developers are accepted. Every iPhone developer or company must have at least 1 app in the store already, and pass a short screening process. The goal of the iPhoneAppQuotes Network is to become the exclusive source for iPhone Application developers.

For businesses or consumers looking to build their own iPhone Apps and hire a development company or freelancer, the process is easy. Starting your iPhone App begins with finding a reputable vendor. Simply fill out the short form on iPhoneAppQuotes and up to 3 companies or freelancers will contact you to discuss your project and provide you with a free quote.
