

Austin-Soft releases Day-n-Night: Bring the beauty of time down to Earth

Published on 03/31/09

Austin-Soft is delighted to announce the immediate availability of Day-n-Night for the iPhone and iPod Touch. Day-n-Night displays the beauty of the Earth, showing a smooth combination of day and night images, including a mix of the daylight and nighttime images during twilight along the sun's shadow. Day-n-Night offers a clean and uncluttered user interface, allowing you to zoom into the map and view the approach of sunlight or shadow across the face of your iPhone.

Maple Valley, WA - Austin-Soft is delighted to announce the immediate availability of Day-n-Night for the iPhone and iPod Touch. Day-n-Night displays the beauty of the Earth, showing a smooth combination of day and night images, including a mix of the daylight and nighttime images during twilight along the sun's shadow.

"There is no better way to appreciate our Earth than to see it as if we were in space." stated Austin-Soft CEO Glenn L. Austin. "What is amazing is watching the night lights of the earth peek through the twilight as night creeps forward across the map. It makes a wonderful addition to your iPhone."

Designed to take advantage of the iPhone's unique abilities and interface, Day-n-Night offers a clean and uncluttered user interface, allowing you to zoom into the map and view the approach of sunlight or shadow across the face of your iPhone. In addition, a dynamic clock display displays your local date and time.
