

MEI Introduces AdsUp Order-Entry and CRM Solution to the Americas

Published on 06/06/07

Managing Editor Inc. (MEI), an Adobe Systems portfolio company and a leading provider of software solutions for the publishing industry, today announced that it has entered into an agreement with UK software provider 5 fifteen Ltd. to be the exclusive distributor of the AdsUp(R) browser-based order-entry and Customer Relationship Management solution in the Americas.

Jenkintown, PA (June 6, 2007) – Managing Editor Inc. (MEI), an Adobe Systems portfolio company and a leading provider of software solutions for the publishing industry, today announced that it has entered into an agreement with UK software provider 5 fifteen Ltd. to be the exclusive distributor of the AdsUp® software suite in the Americas.

AdsUp is a browser-based order-entry and Customer Relationship Management solution that provides users with a suite of powerful tools for order-entry, ad-tracking, customer contact, business intelligence and finance, all via intuitive Web interfaces. MEI is teaming up with 5 fifteen to distribute, install, train and support AdsUp for users in North and South America.

Known as ad|DEPOT in Europe and other markets, AdsUp is developed entirely in Web services. The SOA-built system adheres to emerging standards for advertising interchange and delivers comprehensive functionality, while ensuring that everyone in the enterprise has access to pertinent information. AdsUp uses the latest technologies from industry suppliers such as Microsoft and Adobe, including Microsoft BizTalk Server to manage all the workflow integration.

"AdsUp is a natural extension of our robust line of production management tools," said Dennis McGuire, CEO and president of MEI. "Its Web-based functionality makes it more customizable and technologically superior to any other order-entry system. With AdsUp and our flagship ad layout solutions, we offer publishers fully automated control of their entire advertising workflows."

Rod Fenwick, managing director of 5 fifteen, agreed that MEI's industry-leading products and reputation make it a perfect fit for AdsUp.

"MEI employees, products and customer commitment are held in high regard in the publishing industry," Fenwick said. "I am delighted that MEI will be representing the software in the Americas."
