Moraga, California - Spinapse has just released a new iPhone game called "Smackarooni". The game is full of in-your-face action for players to load, throw and dodge their way through a virtual snowball fight. Smackarooni can be played alone in single-player mode or against a friend in Wi-Fi mode.

Start by choosing a nickname and a character. The object of the game is to hit your opponent with a snowball, without getting hit yourself. Players score a point for each hit. But they have to be careful - the first player to go ahead by two points wins.
