Saint Louis, Missouri - Skeleton Key, an accomplished team of technology consultants who solve business problems, is pleased to announce the re-branding of their Information Technology division into sister-company, Brightsource IT.

Founded in 2004 with headquarters in St. Louis, Skeleton Key has maintained two successful divisions: Application Development and Information Technology. The Application Development side of the company builds custom-fit business tools and reporting dashboards that make critical information accessible and actionable. The Information Technology side of the company provides technology consulting, technical support and Managed IT Services to small and medium businesses.

Both Skeleton Key and Brightsource IT will continue to operate with the same ownership and management. Oliver Block will manage daily operations for Brightsource IT. Mark Richman will continue to manage Skeleton Key. The newly remodeled office is at the same location, 3260 Hampton Avenue, Suite 200, St. Louis, MO 63139. Likewise, the same reliable and growing staff will represent both companies.

"I look forward to making it easier for our customers to identify each of our core service offerings under a unique brand. Skeleton Key has always been about flexibility and customization, whereas Brightsource IT is about doing IT the right way and following best practices rigorously. I'm confident this re-branding of our IT offering will help our clients understand this difference and see how the two complement one another when services are provided by both divisions in concert," said Mark Richman, President, Skeleton Key and Brightsource IT.
