

Dot Connector - A Connect-the-dots Color Explosion Game

Published on 12/07/12

Dot Connector 1.0 is a wonderful new addition to Ellie's Games. With cheerful music and no ads this is a magical addition to a suite of apps that are child-friendly and a parents dream. In Dot Connector kids are able to choose from a vast selection of categories. From animals to cars to boats and more! Once this selection is made there is a variety of colored levels to choose from. At the start the first number melodically appears and as soon as it is touched a second appears and so on.

San Marcos, California - For those who have a life that literally revolves around your iPhone, iPad or iPod, wouldn't it be nice to have a kid-friendly app that could also improve your child's cognitive functions and keep a toddler busy for hours so that parents with a hectic schedule can get some work done? This is why; parents who are babysitting their toddler at work will find that Dot Connector is the perfect app to download for their iPad, iPhone or iPod.

Dot Connector is a great new app. It's a child friendly 'connect-the-dots' styled game for iPads and iPhones and are kid friendly apps from the niche "Frustration free apps from one parent to another". Dot Connector is a wonderful new addition to Ellie's Games! With cheerful music and no ads, this is a magical addition to a suite of apps that are child-friendly and every working parent's dream come true.

The app allows kids to select a game from many categories. To keep little ones engaged in this connect the dots game, animals, cars, boats and much more has been used. The child can choose their category based on what they like most and then each game has several colored levels to pick from. As the game begins, the 1st number appears with a melody. Once this has been touched, a 2nd one reappears and the game goes on.

The number can be touched, tapped or dragged to connect them and the fact that this game is both visually appealing with many colors and also has a great audio background score makes it a favorite amongst kids. As the kid moves from number to number, in sequential order, finally a silhouette appears at the end of the puzzle. Dot Connector is great for eye-hand coordination and will also help improve cognitive skills in special needs children.

"This is the perfect game for my two children. They like working together to solve each puzzle", says Brandie. "What I love about Dot Connector is the vibrant, visually stimulating colors and the playful music that keeps my daughter engaged for hours. Also the colorful kid friendly menu is extra useful and the fact that there are no ads makes this the perfect game for children", says another happy mother. Since the puzzle has many levels, it also helps a child develop better focus and improves mental development.
