New York, New York - With Tap of the Dead(TM), Try This Networks publishes their 6th game developed exclusively for the iPhone and iPod Touch. Tap of the Dead(TM) is a unique action game with innovative gameplay and interface design. Players must tap buttons to complete sequences and kill zombies before they damage the player. Set in New York City, the game features over 45 unique levels based on real world locations allowing the player to realistically fight block by block in the city overrun by zombies.

With over 40 types of zombies available in the game, it marks a clear departure from previous games in the genre where some graphical assets are repeated throughout the game. Further, the short load times allows the gamer to pickup and leave the game any time.

"Tap of the Dead(TM) is deceptively simple and engaging," says Wally Chang, co-founder of Try This Networks, "but difficult to master the overlapping button sequences for the perfect score."

"Several zombies often attack at once leaving it up to the player to decide the fastest way to destroy them all and get to safety," adds Shoaib Anwar, co-founder and Chief Creative Officer of Try This Networks.

* iPhone or iPod Touch 2.2 or later
