Russia, Moscow - STOIK, an established mobile application development company, has announced their excitement over the recent release of the famous Face Warp Camera for the iPhone, iPad, and iPod touch devices running on iOS 5.0 or later. This fancy photo editing utility gives users the power to create crazy photo expressions and caricatures in real time as well as warp faces in any way they want all just within a seconds. Once users completed the picture they can save it to their mobile device's camera roll right from within the app. Face Warp Camera is currently available for download on the Apple App Store for free in the Entertainment category.

An innovative new recreational photo editing app, Face Warp Camera offers everything users need to create caricatures and face warp photos at any time they want, and for whatever reason they come up with! The app itself is incredibly easy and intuitive to use with only three tabs at the bottom. A toggle switch to the left, which lets users toggle between the front and back camera, a camera key at the center and an effects tab to the right which allows users create multiple distortions to face. Users simply put the camera in front of them or in front of the person's face and Face Warp Camera does most of the leg work. The app is easy to navigate, and extremely easy in use. Its possible to choose one or even all the effects to run simultaneously.

Face Warp Camera features quick face recognition system that traces motion and detects your face automatically, so you don't need to be motionless in order to make a photo. The App supports front and back camera so whatever you want to prank your friend or make funny caricature of yourself Face Warp Camera keeps you covered. Face Warp Camera is the face-changing photo app that puts hilarious face photo effects right at your fingertips. Photo caricatures has never been easier with Face Warp Camera on your iOS devices.
