

Outlook .msg file viewer for iOS devices released

Published on 01/05/13

MSG File Viewer 1.0 conveniently closes a gap in business communication for customers using Microsoft Outlook. Newly released by Tobias Suellhoefer Software, MSG File Viewer enables iPhone and iPad users to access and import .msg files, which contain items like messages, appointments, tasks and contacts originally created with Microsoft Outlook. MSG File Viewer can be launched directly from within any other applications like Safari, FTP clients, Mail or Dropbox.

Essen, Germany - The newly released MSG File Viewer App enables iPhones and iPads to access and import .msg files, which contain items like messages, appointments, tasks and contacts originally created with Microsoft Outlook. Developed by Tobias Suellhoefer Software, MSG File Viewer conveniently closes a gap in business communication for customers using Microsoft Outlook.

MSG File Viewers main features are:

- * Show messages and notes with correct formatting
- * Access appointments, tasks, meeting requests
- * Access contact information
- * Show embedded msg objects
- * Access file attachments

Effortlessly show messages and notes with correct formatting. MSG File Viewer can be launched directly from within any other applications like Safari, FTP clients, Mail or Dropbox by clicking the "Open in" icon. Users can effortlessly access appointments, tasks, meeting requests with details of such items easily shown. It is also possible to import them to the users iOS calendar. Additionally, users can call, write an email or visit the contact's web page directly or import the whole contact to the iOS device.

Message files often contain embedded Outlook items. Unlike its competitors, only MSG File Viewer is able to handle embedded message objects. Users can preview well known document types (Microsoft Word Documents, Excel Sheets, PDFs) or hand them over to other applications for further editing or storage.

Device Requirements:

- * iPhone, iPod touch, and iPad
- * Requires iOS 6.0 or later
- * 1.0 MB

Pricing and Availability:

MSG File Viewer 1.0 is $0.99 USD (or equivalent amount in other currencies) and available worldwide exclusively through the App Store in the Business category.
