Vilnius, Lithuania - Jumsoft, a developer of high-quality applications and designs for OS X, is further expanding its assortment with a brand new product for users of Apple's Pages. Toolbox for Pages 1.0 is a free download that offers a new, convenient way to view and purchase Jumsoft's product sets for Apple's word processing application and gives a number of sample items free of charge.

Toolbox for Pages provides numerous options for creating professional and exciting content ranging from invoices and business cards to greetings and posters. In total, the collection contains 704 templates, 1498 clipart images, 722 doodles, 50 badges, 6 ribbons, and 68 watercolor clipart pieces in three colors: red, blue, and green. Users can purchase these by piece, by category, or by set. In addition, the first item in each category can be downloaded at no charge.

Algirdas Unguvaitis, the general manager of Jumsoft, said, "We think Toolbox for Pages is a win-win approach for us and our clients. It allows us to update the product assortment really swiftly, and our clients can pick and choose the specific items they are interested in or save by purchasing the whole bundle. Plus, they can download a number of sample items for free and see for themselves how these tools make their work more efficient."

Once an item has been purchased, users can open it in Pages with just one click. Every object in the templates can be edited without difficulty. All images in Elements for Pages and Jumsoft Clipart include transparent backgrounds that allow the images to be placed on various colors and patterns. The PNG format lets users adjust brightness, tint, and other image parameters.
