

baKno launches innovative Monthly Subscription Service for Gaming

Published on 05/08/09

Game development studio baKno today announces their new subscription service offering fun and challenging online games for all ages and a new way for gamers to enjoy unlimited play of its games for Mac and Windows. Gamers can play all 15 baKno games with unlimited functionality for one low monthly price. baKno's new Subscription Service provides a low-cost, recession-busting alternative to purchasing multiple Licenses or Game Coins for individual games.

Key Biscayne, Florida - baKno, a game development studio offering fun and challenging online games for all ages and every computer, announces a new way for gamers to enjoy unlimited play of its games for Mac and Windows. baKno's Subscription Service is now available for $19.99 per month.

Players who purchase a Subscription Service receive a personal key code that unlocks all 15 baKno games for Mac or Windows for one month from the date of purchase. The code works on one computer, the first registered when unlocking the code. Additional subscriptions can be purchased to renew the expiration date for subsequent months' play.

With its fixed price for unlimited functionality play of all games, baKno's new Subscription Service provides a low-cost, recession-busting alternative to purchasing multiple Licenses or Game Coins for individual games. Subscription Service is ideal for beginners and serious gamers alike, and can also be purchased as a gift.

baKno's software games are offered directly to customers as free-to-try downloads, along with free upgrades, secure payment, a 30-day money back warranty and diligent customer service. When players decide to unlock the unlimited capabilities of a game they have now three different options: a regular Game License, pay-per-play with Game Coins or the new Subscription Service.
