Published on 03/21/13

Funky Visions today introduces Buttermilk - The Bouncing Baby Goat 1.0 for iOS. The game is based on the goat Buttermilk Sky, an Internet sensation that has been seen by over 8 million viewers on YouTube. You control Buttermilk as she runs around the farm jumping over goats and eating oats. Designed for both kids and parents alike, the game offers lots of bright colors and funky sounds will keep you and your kids entertained for hours of fun. Compete against your friends on Game Center as well.

Dublin, Ohio - Funky Visions today is proud to announce the release of Buttermilk - The Bouncing Baby Goat for iOS. The game is based on the goat Buttermilk Sky, an Internet sensation that has been seen by over 8 million viewers on YouTube. She's also made appearances on both the Ellen Show and The Tonight Show with Jay Leno. And now she has her own video game!

You control Buttermilk as she runs around the farm jumping over goats and eating oats. You can even jump on top of another goat and propel her high into the sky, just like in the video! But make sure you don't run into her siblings or forget to eat, otherwise she'll get tired and fall asleep. Don't worry! You can always wake her up and play again.

Lots of bright colors and funky sounds will keep you and your kids entertained for hours of fun! Compete against your friends on Game Center and see who can get the highest score or go the farthest distance. You can even watch the original YouTube video that started it all, right from within the game.
