Filling in tax forms, contracts, and order forms on-the-go will be seamless and fast. All important documents can be stored on the Cloud and completely editable at any time.

San Francisco, California - Majorspot, Inc. announces the upcoming release of Fluid Notes for iPad, available for Free, May 1st, 2013. Fluid Notes makes your notes clean, clear, crisp, and shareable. Build a library of organized notebooks, each with a customizable cover. Or import a PDF and work on it. Retina Ink never looked so good.

Gone are the days of pinching, squeezing, and three finger movements to get what you want. Fluid intuitively pops up a trackpad when you need it. The high resolution scaled view will give you complete detailed control. The window even moves along as you write, allowing for cohesive thought. Try the ball point pen, fountain pen, pencil, or even a crayon!

Fluid's Bookshelf lets you organize your books in beautiful form with an attractive selection of notebook cover designs. Tap and you are instantly taken to the last place you were working on. PDFs can be imported and written, highlighted, or typed on. Share docs using the import/export feature to and from DropBox, Evernote, Google Drive, and Box.

Filling in tax forms, contracts, and order forms on-the-go will be seamless and fast. All your important documents can be stored on the Cloud and completely editable at any time.
