

Get your life organized - quickly and easily - using one of the App

Published on 05/16/13

Customers using this app can manage their daily to-dos, without needing any web access, logins or extra devices. And if a user wants detailed information around what individual components make up a certain task, they can choose from "Get Lists," a huge collection of already stored to-dos. Examples include but are not limited to: spring cleaning check list, a family budget, gift ideas, holiday and vacation lists, grocery shopping, trivia, sports lists or even ideas for small businesses.

Sydney, Australia - This month Scaredy Cat Apps announced the release of its debut app List-o-Rama. Built to become one of the AppStores hottest apps of the year, List-o-Rama helps people organize commitments, time schedules, appointments, shopping, travel...just about anything you can think of.

Users can write their own list or choose from around 100 to-do lists to tailor for their personalized use.

Quote From Scaredy Cat App Owner: "Let's face it, we don't all know how to plan a baptism, or understand the rules to soccer, or know how to make a home eco-friendly... List-o-Rama has been developed as the antithesis to complex list and productively apps."

"When users interact with the current top to-do lists and productivity apps, they can be confronted with complicated technology, web access requirements and busy interfaces. As a user myself, I wanted to create something easy, so users can focus on the job in hand and not worry about the technology - we're not all project managers or programmers and don't need that level of detail!"
