

Now You Can Sketch Portraits Like a Pro

Published on 05/16/13

Auman Software, LLC announces the upcoming release of handPaint 5.0, an update to its popular handPaint app for iPhone and iPad by introducing a new portrait feature. On Friday, May 17, 2013, Auman Software's prekApps will release version 5.0 of its popular handPaint iOS app. This update contains a new Portrait sketching feature as well as the elimination of ads and in-app purchases. Updates will be free to our 547,000 users, plus they will also get an added bonus.

Dunedin, Florida - Auman Software, LLC announces the upcoming release of handPaint 5.0 for iOS, on Friday, May 17, 2013. Use your device's camera to snap a picture, then the snapshot becomes your subject. Magically "sketch" the photo's subject using one of handPaint's many tools (magic brush, neon marker, sketch pen, or magic pencil) to create hand drawn effects with photo quality precision.

Unleash the artist within! No drawing experience necessary; handPaint is for all of us that love to draw, but need a little help. The family-friendly handPaint application is a digital canvas where budding artists of all ages can create artwork using a wide variety of colorful subjects and artisans' tools. Finally, a fun and easy way to express your inner artist!

With this release, handPaint and prekApps are now AD FREE! Following Apple's initiative to keep kids apps ad free, we are taking it one step further to include our series of "family friendly" apps. prekApps believes in "family friendly" apps, that means apps that are ad free and in-app purchase free. All of our prekApps apps are now ad free, hooray!

As an added bonus, our current 547,000 users will receive all of the existing sketchbooks formerly available via in-app purchase for free. New users who download handPaint version 5.0 from iTunes App Store will also get all sketch books included.

"Our team at Prekapps.com is committed to the best possible family experience on the iPad. In version 5.0 of handPaint, we have unlocked all 16 sets including: Under the Sea, Cars, Cute Animals, Scribble Heads, and the Construction Vehicle Sets. Everything is now included for one great price," explains Karen Auman, mother and co-creator of handPaint.

Starting May 17, 2013, you can download handPaint 5.0 for a special celebratory price of $4.99 USD (regularly priced $9.99) for a limited time offer in the App Store in the Entertainment category.
