Published on 06/02/09

FernsSoft has announced RadarCanada 1.0 for iPhone and iPod touch. RadarCanada is a location aware application which will show you animated radar images from any radar station in Canada. The application also contains a list of all available radar stations in Canada. RadarCanada features a built in database of all available radar stations. View any radar station whenever you want.

Ingersoll, Canada - FernsSoft has announced RadarCanada and its availability in the App Store. RadarCanada is a location aware application which will show you animated radar images from any radar station in Canada. The application also contains a list of all available radar stations in Canada.

If you are using the iPod Touch and you are not getting a radar station automatically found, please set your favourite location by going into the All Stations tab, clicking the bookmark button in the top right corner, selecting the desired station, and then click the bookmark button again.

Next time you go to the Closest Station tab your favourite station will be loaded. Note that your device location is used over the favourite if your location can be found.

Feature Highlights:

- * Automatically loads animation of 8 radar images and plays them
- * Built in database of all available radar stations in Canada and allows you to view any radar station whenever you want
- * Self contained, do not have to go to Settings.app to change favourite radar station
- * This Application Does Not Show Radar Images From The USA, Canada Only. If you are in the USA, it will still find the closest radar station which might be useful if you live near the Canadian border.

Minimum Requirements:

iPhone and iPod touch 2.2.1 or later

Pricing and Availability:

RadarCanada 1.0 is available in the iTunes App Store for $2.99 CAD/USD.
