

Hey Everybody - it's PictureTime!

Published on 08/09/13

The App Door recently launched PictureTime! 1.0, their new photo app for iPhone and iPod touch. Great for Parties, Weddings, Vacations, Holidays and more, PictureTime! actually reminds you to take a photo. Its totally random and it even does it for you. Setup the duration to run for hours, days, or weeks and PictureTime will give you random reminders to snap a photo. Just swipe the notification and the countdown begins; 3, 2, 1 ... it's PictureTime!

Edmonton, Canada - The App Door, developers of several successful apps, recently launched their PictureTime! photo app. As the tagline reads; "Stop Missing Moments, Start Capturing Memories" The app is designed to captures spontaneous moments that everyone usually misses.

PictureTime! does what other photo apps don't - It actually reminds you to take a photo, its totally random and it even does it for you. Great for Parties, Weddings, Vacations, Holidays any time you've ever said "I should have taken a picture of that!" Simply setup the duration to run for hours, days, or weeks. and PictureTime will give you random reminders to snap a photo. Just swipe the notification and the countdown begins; 3 - 2 - 1 ... it's PictureTime!

"I got the idea from personal experience. I wanted to take a bunch of photos with friends and family that I was going to see at a function. The party was so good and I had so much fun, I forgot to take photos." says Randy Chamzuk, president of The App Door. "We designed PictureTime! not only remind you to take photos, but that it would randomly remind you, giving you some of the most natural and fun opportunities for a picture. I've also found that it's a great icebreaker - there are many times I would like to take a photo, but felt embarrassed to ask, now I just hold up my iPhone and yell ... it's PictureTime! and everyone instantly gets ready.
