

Phlo for iOS and Mac - Your One Search Box That Searches Everywhere

Published on 08/20/13

Phlo for iOS and Phlo 2.0 for Mac launch today. Phlo is your one app for searching straight to results from any search engine. Your search history and favorite search providers are saved and synced between all your devices. Phlo is the latest app from Cynapse, maker of Localscope, the popular iPhone location browser. What Localscope does for finding local places, Phlo does for finding search results online.

Mumbai, India - Phlo for iOS is now available worldwide. Phlo lets you type once and search everywhere, using all your favorite search providers. It saves you time typing, and i device.

Phlo for Mac version 2.0 is also available today, letting you call up the same lightning-fast search box on the desktop with a global keyboard shortcut. Phlo for Mac syncs with the iOS version using our free Phlo Sync service. Your search history and saved sites will always be available on all your devices. Phlo for Mac can now suggest searches f your Mac even faster and easier.

Phlo comes loaded with over 30 major search engines, social networks, and other news and info sites, including Google, Facebook, Twitter, Amazon, Wikipedia, Reddit, and more. You can add any search site you like in the iOS app. You can also use the Phlo Assistant browser extension to add search sites with one click as you browse on your desktop. All your sites, along with your history, will sync to all your devices.

P our mobile location browser: it often makes sense to separate interfaces from services. W look for it. With Phlo, you always know where to start your search.
