Denver, Colorado - Independent developer, Josh Granville today is proud to announce the release and immediate availability of TRYPTpic 1.2.1, an update to his popular photography app for developed for iOS devices. Tryptpic crops one photo into multiple related panels and uploads them sequentially to create a larger display area using the entire grid view of the profile. In the profile view, the panels combine to form one large, single image. Version 1.2.1 introduces several new features to enhance the way you share on Instagram:

- * A powerful noise reduction filter that smooths out pixelated photos
- * More control of photo placement in the crop panel view
- * An in-app feedback button
- * 2 new crop number options- 1x4 and 2x4

1x3, 2x3, 3x3, and 3x4 panel choices are still included, and upload through the numbered Instagram interface in the app. 1x2, 2x2, 1x4, and 2x4 panels choices can only be saved to the camera roll to manually upload as they require additional photos to fill in the grid. Any of these crop choices can be made into a smaller panel number by tapping the green check mark to remove from the upload or save sequence. This style of collaging one's Instagram has been previously done using Photoshop. With TRYPTpic, it can simply and quickly be done with only one's iPhone, iPad or iPod.

Device Requirements:

- * iPhone, iPod touch, and iPad
- * Requires iOS 5.0 or later
- * 4.2 MB
