

Popular Mac Accounting Software Chooses DTS for Private Cloud Hosting

Published on 09/25/13

Toronto based Accountek Solutions, leader in the mac accounting software industry, chooses DTS for private cloud hosting of its popular cross-platform accounting system, Connected Accounting and ERP. Diverse Technology Solutions is a leading provider of private cloud hosting solutions. DTS and Accountek have formed a strategic partnership to combine DTS's virtual desktop hosting solution and Accountek's powerful accounting & ERP system for a suite of applications that can run an entire business.

Toronto (ON) Canada - Accountek Solutions, a leader in the Mac and PC accounting software industry for over 20 years, is pleased to announce the selection of DTS as the exclusive hosting provider in North America for Connected Accounting and ERP software. DTS and Accountek have formed a strategic partnership to combine DTS's virtual desktop hosting solution and Accountek's powerful accounting and ERP system for a suite of applications that can run an entire business.

"Having Connected offered as a hosted application in the cloud offers great choice for our customers," says Scott Archer, Director of Product Development for the Connected Accounting and ERP software. "We have always focused on concurrent Mac and PC access to accounting information and now customers can choose to access Connected anytime, anywhere, from any platform and/or device, with DTS's private cloud hosting services."

"Our new relationship with Accountek required extensive testing and certification of the Connected product to ensure exceptional performance delivered via the DTS-VDESK (link) virtual desktop hosting solution" said Ken Blume DTS CTO. Accountek's Accounting and ERP software packaged with the Microsoft product suite, file sharing capabilities and access via any device delivers a powerful combination for a complete solution to manage business workflow.

DTS welcomes the new relationship and opportunity to work with the Accountek team to ensure quality of service for their clients. For more information on products and services visit Accountek Solutions online.
