Bournemouth, United Kingdom - Stopframe Ltd is thrilled to announce a substantial update to its revolutionary guidebook app, Tips Guide for iPhone, which adds all-new content and a new look for iOS 7. Available today, version 1.1 updates every tutorial for iOS 7, introduces a brand new chapter, a news feed, new fonts and new artwork that looks perfect in iOS 7. Combined, these changes and additions make Tips Guide for iPhone the perfect way to learn how to use iPhone and iOS 7. It's also packed with tips and secrets that even advanced users won't have discovered.

iOS 7 has a whole new design that's packed with color, animation and layered effects. It's also introduces a new font - Helvetica Neue Light - which maintains the characteristics of the original Helvetica, but looks stunning on a Retina Display. Tips Guide for iPhone version 1.1 reflects these changes with a brand new interface, updated artwork, a new icon, a news feed and use of Helvetica Neue Light. As a result, the app looks amazing on iOS 7 devices.

Version 1.1 of the app also introduces an entire new chapter called "Settings". Included within are 11 tutorials that examine hidden settings that alter how your iPhone looks and works. You'll learn how to enable restrictions, use Assistive Touch, zoom the entire screen and much more. Also introduced to existing chapters are six new tutorials. You'll learn how to use AirPlay to share files, access the all-new notification Center, how to find files using Spotlight, alter text size, use iTunes Radio and see your recent locations on a map.

Chapters are colour-coded, enabling users to instinctively navigate the app. Animated text fades and moves across the screen, and interactive content makes learning easy and fun. By focusing on the user experience and stripping out unnecessary features, users will find it easier to focus on what's important: discovering new ways to use their iPhone.
