

Congratulations Generation - A Fun Way to Compose Greeting Messages

Published on 12/19/13

In this pre-holiday season, independent app developer Andrey Solovyev releases the free app called Congratulations Generation 1.0. There are four databases available. Using this app, the users can get inspiration for their greeting messages by generating a random one first. One may find some generated messages funny but the major goal of this app is to entertain. There are more than 1,000,000 unique combinations for each of the four modes.

Salt Lake City, Utah - Independent app developer Andrey Solovyev is pleased to release Congratulations Generation 1.0. This app is available for iOS. The users may find some generated messages funny but the major goal of this app is to entertain.

There are four databases available:

- * Christmas and New Year greetings
- * Happy Birthday greetings
- * Congratulations on various occasions (graduations, weddings, etc.)
- * the Valentine's Day wishes (require an in-app-purchase to be unlocked)

A sample Christmas greeting generated by the app:

"Dear Friends, I wish you wonderful Christmas and success throughout the new year. Merry Christmas and New Year!"

A sample Congratulation generated by the app:

"So exciting to hear about your graduation! And please show how we can celebrate! You are a role model for all of us. Your friend,"

Features:

- * 4 databases, each generating more than 1,000,000 unique greetings
- * Edit and send the greetings to friends by e-mail or post them on the social networks
- * The English and Russian versions of this app are available
