

Celebrate Valentine's Day with 2life, the app for your relationship

Published on 02/06/14

Love is in the air, and the 2life iOS app is helping couples stay connected this Valentine's Day. Along with its powerful sharing and communication tools for two, 2life serves up couple-focused content right in the app, including Valentine's Day gift guides, budget-friendly date night ideas, and entertaining blog articles about love and relationships. We're showing our love with a special sale; couples can upgrade to one year of 2life Premium for $1.99. That's an 80% savings!

Toronto, Canada - Love is in the air, and the 2life mobile app is helping couples stay connected this Valentine's Day. Along with its powerful sharing and communication tools for two, 2life serves up couple-focused content right in the app, including Valentine's Day gift guides, budget-friendly date night ideas, and entertaining blog articles about love and relationships.

"Valentine's Day is a great reminder that the sharing that matters most is with the one you love," says 2life founder, Diane Hall. "We created the 2life mobile app to support that kind of sharing in couples' everyday lives."

Designed for two people, 2life lets you and your partner share, collaborate and coordinate all in one place. You can coordinate your calendar events, share photos and web links, make and manage lists in real time, send text messages, write journals, shop at top retailers and enjoy lifestyle content. It's the perfect way for you and your favorite person in the world to stay connected.

This Valentine's Day we're showing our love with a special sale on our 2life Premium upgrade. From Thursday, February 6 to Monday, February 17, couples can purchase one year of 2life Premium for $1.99--that's an 80% savings! The upgrade allows users to share an unlimited number of photos, lists and journals for the entire year. It's the best two bucks you can spend on your relationship! (2life Basic is free and allows use of all the features with some limitations on data storage.)

The 2life App is available for FREE from the iTunes App Store on iPhone, iPad and iPod touch.
