FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Toronto (Ontario, Canada) - JULY 17, 2007 - Agile Web Solutions Inc. has released 1Passwd 2.4.9, an update to the #1 Password Manager and Form Filler for OS X. The update features a major fix in the handling of radio buttons and checkboxes when saving web forms as well other enhancements and bug fixes. The 2.4.x series of updates to 1Passwd is coming to an end as the upcoming 1Passwd 2.5 will offer major feature enhancements that have been in development during the last few months.

1Passwd features:

- * Manage hundreds of passwords with one master key.
- * Automatic form filler outclasses the other AutoFill products.
- * Prevent phishing criminals from stealing your information.
- * Stop keyloggers from recording your passwords and credit cards.
- * OS X Keychain integration provides maximum security.
- * Integrated with Safari, OmniWeb, DEVONagent, Firefox, Camino, and Flock.
- * Easily import from Safari, Firefox, Web Confidential, and RoboForm.
- * Take your passwords with you on your Palm / Treo. (with 1Passwd Reader for Palm application)
- * .Mac integration allows passwords to be synced across machines.
- * Generate and enter strong passwords with a single click.

Save your time, never worry about remembering passwords again, and protect your identity from phishing and keyloggers with this sophisticated password manager for Mac OS X. These unique features made 1Passwd the most popular password manager for Mac with tens of thousands satisfied customers worldwide in less than a year.

1Passwd 2.4.9 Release Notes:

- [NEW] Added security warning message when the Unlock Automatically feature is enabled.
