San Diego, California - newMacgadgets is pleased to introduce their new Apple Store Displays for the iPad Air. Available in two models; a secure counter-top model, which replicates the Apple store acrylic display, and a stylish wall mount frame. Both are designed in clear acrylic to enhance the look and feel of the new iPad Air.

Counter-Top Model:

Designed for places where security is a concern, the all acrylic tapered counter-top display combines security with the elegance of the Apple store. Newly designed miniature stainless steel brackets secure the iPad Air within the pocket allowing for better security and a cleaner look. They have also included a home-button guard bracket for applications that require continuous running. Our iPad Air Mount secures to any counter-top with either clear adhesive strips or screws (both included).

Full-access is available to the touch screen, on/off switch and charging port. The charging cable secures underneath the base and routes out the back for a professional look. We also offer a non-secure version of this Base for home use.

Wall Mount Model:

newMacgadgets iPad Air Wall Mount model is similar in design to their acrylic Counter-Top Mount but without the taper. The iPad Air is secured with the same stainless steel brackets and also includes an optional home-button guard bracket for continuous running applications.

When secured to the wall the iPad Air conceals the mounting screws to prevent removal (mounting hardware is included). Depending on the user's preference, the mounting frame can be positioned in either the landscape or portrait position.

When mounted to the wall full-access is available to the touch screen, on/off switch and charging port. The charging cable secures behind the base for a clean look. Visit newMacgadgets today for additional information on their latest iPad Air products.
