Published on 02/19/14

Jumsoft has again increased its product assortment with the latest update to Toolbox for Pages 1.2.10 for Apple's popular page layout application. The update adds 58 fresh Pages themes, 10 pattern sets, 7 frame themes, and 20 other sets of design elements to the current selection. The versatile designs are perfect for creating and illustrating brochures, catalogs, proposals, and other types of content. The new illustration sets are also available in Toolbox for Keynote.

Vilnius, Lithuania - Jumsoft, a developer of high-quality applications and designs for OS X and iOS, has again increased its product assortment with the latest update of the Toolbox for Pages app. The update adds 58 fresh Pages themes, 10 pattern sets, 7 frame themes, and 20 other sets design elements to the current selection. The versatile designs are perfect for creating and illustrating brochures, catalogs, proposals, and other types of content. The new illustration sets are also available in Toolbox for Keynote.

Toolbox for Pages is a free download that offers a handy way to view and purchase Jumsoft's product sets for Apple's Pages application. In total, the collection contains hundreds of Pages templates as well as clipart images, doodles, patterns, frames, bullets, and other items. Users can purchase these by piece, by category, or by set. In addition, the first item in each category can be downloaded at no charge.

Algirdas Unguvaitis, the general manager of Jumsoft, said, "The latest update mostly focuses on content for Pages, but many of the elements can also be used for Keynote projects. As usual, owners of the full Toolbox bundles will receive the new items with no extra charge."

Once an item has been purchased, users can open it in Pages or Keynote with just one click. Most objects in the templates can be edited without any difficulty. All images in Elements for Pages and Keynote and clipart sets include transparent backgrounds that allow the images to be placed on various colors and patterns. The PNG format lets users adjust brightness, tint, and other image parameters.
