

Layers 1.0 brings layers to natural media painting on the iPhone

Published on 07/20/09

Gotow.net today is pleased to announce the immediate availability of Layers 1.0 for iPhone and iPod Touch. Based on feedback from hundreds of mobile artists, Layers takes natural media painting to the next level - with layers! Use up to five layers in each drawing and create a masterpiece with eight high-quality brushes, a full spectrum of colors, generous undo support, and transparency. Then transfer your work to the desktop as a high-resolution Photoshop file with the layers intact.

Blacksburg, VA - Gotow.net today is excited to announce the immediate availability of Layers 1.0. Our latest iPhone app opens up a whole new creative space with a rich set of painting tools and the ability to create up to five layers in each drawing! Add a layer from a photo to trace your subject, or add multiple layers to separate different parts of your work. Each layer is fully transparent, and a unique 3D interface allows you to create and rearrange layers with ease. When you're finished, you can export your work to a Photoshop file with layers intact, or sync with the desktop viewer to generate a high-resolution copy or replay your brush strokes to show off your talent!

Layers offers a balanced set of painting tools that will appeal to seasoned artists and doodlers alike. With eight high-quality brushes, an eyedropper, and an eraser - Layers provides the tools you need to create great art. It's intuitive interface has been built around the workflows of popular iPhone artists. Toolbars on the screen hide as you work and can be brought back with a simple shake - so your tools are never far away. A full-screen color picker provides an infinite range of brush colors and transparency is fully supported throughout the app.

Layers takes undo and redo seriously. It keeps a 30-level undo stack as you work, and saves your undo history when you stop drawing - so it's easy to pick up where you left off! Every action is undoable, so you never get stuck trying to paint over a mistake.
