Those who subscribe will be the first to know when the new promotion launches, and will get special deals and notices during the bundle.

On August 1st, Mac Bundle Box will release its next bundle promotion, containing a selection of amazing and beautiful applications that will blow you away. Mac Bundle Box is not giving away too many details about the next promotion, only that it will launch on August 1st, and will be one of the most amazing Mac software events this year.

Mac Bundle Box today also announced a special deal for those who go to the Mac Bundle Box website, and subscribe for newsletter announcements about the upcoming bundle. Everyone that subscribes between now, and July 31st will be given a free license to Koingo Software's amazing application 'Amnesia'. All existing subscribers will also get a free license too.

Those who subscribe will be the first to know when the new promotion launches, and will get special deals and notices during the bundle that may entitle them to additional applications. Mac Bundle Box newsletter subscribers are notified first about everything at the company, and are given the first opportunity at any deals or freebies that the company may be offering.

Pricing and Availability:

Customers can sign up to the Mac Bundle Box newsletter, free of charge over at the Mac Bundle Box homepage, anyone who is subscribed at the time of Midnight (PST) on July 31st will be entitled to a free license for Amnesia. The bundle promotion will begin on August 1st.
